A. Description of the Advisory Firm

Skinner Financial Services (hereinafter “SFS”) is a Limited Liability Company organized in the State of South Dakota. The firm was formed in March 2024, and the President, Chief Compliance Officer and sole owner is Jeffery Alan Skinner.

B. Types of Advisory Services

Portfolio Management Services

SFS offers ongoing portfolio management services through recommended third-party advisers based on the individual goals, objectives, time horizon, and risk tolerance of each client. SFS creates an Investment Policy Statement for each client, which outlines the client’s current situation (income, tax levels, and risk tolerance levels). Portfolio management services include, but are not limited to, the following:

- Investment strategy
- Asset allocation
- Risk tolerance
- Personal investment policy
- Asset selection
- Regular portfolio monitoring

SFS evaluates the current investments of each client with respect to their risk tolerance levels and time horizon. Risk tolerance levels are documented in the Investment Policy Statement, which is given to each client.

SFS directs clients to third-party investment advisers to manage all or a portion of the client's assets. Before recommending other advisers for clients, SFS will always ensure those other advisers are properly licensed or registered as an investment adviser. Once the client has engaged a recommended third-party adviser, SFS assists the client in completing the third-party adviser’s forms and questionnaires, acts as a conduit for communication between the client and the third-party adviser and monitors its performance. Investments made by the third-party adviser may be allocated either through the third-party adviser's fund or through a separately managed account managed by such third-party adviser on behalf of SFS's client. SFS will review and monitor the ongoing performance of the third-party adviser as a portion of the client's portfolio.

SFS may also recommend that the client purchase no-commission/low-expense-ratio variable universal life insurance as part of the client’s managed portfolio, but only if it is in the client’s best interest to do so.

Fee-Based Annuities

SFS provides non-discretionary portfolio management services for client assets held within variable annuity and other insurance-based investment products. We assist clients to select the investment sub-accounts available within contracts issued by various insurance companies as custodians, including but not limited to Jackson National and Nationwide.

When you engage us for this service, you grant us non-discretionary authority to manage the underlying investment options within your contract. This authority is established through our advisory agreement and the forms required by the issuing insurance company. Our management is guided by your stated investment objectives, risk tolerance, and financial situation.

It is important to understand the roles in this arrangement:

- We act solely as the investment adviser, managing the investment selections within your account.
- The insurance company (e.g., Jackson National, etc.) that issued your contract acts as the administrator and maintains custody of the assets. They are responsible for record-keeping, providing account statements, and processing transactions as we direct them. Our advisory fee for this service is separate from and in addition to the internal expenses of the investment sub-accounts, mortality and expense charges, administrative fees, and potential surrender charges associated with the annuity or insurance contract itself. For a detailed description of these product-specific fees, you should review the contract prospectus provided by the issuing insurance company.

Financial Planning

Financial plans and financial planning may include but are not limited to: investment planning; life insurance; tax concerns; retirement planning; college planning; and debit/credit planning.

Educational Seminars and Workshops

SFS occasionally offers educational seminars and workshops on various topics. These events are open to clients and the general public and are complimentary for all attendees.

Services Limited to Specific Types of Investments

SFS generally limits its investment advice to mutual funds, fixed income securities, real estate funds (including REITs), insurance products including annuities, equities, ETFs (including ETFs in the gold, precious metal and other commodity sectors), treasury inflation protected/inflation linked bonds, and non-U.S. securities. SFS may use other securities as well to help diversify a portfolio when applicable.

Written Acknowledgement of Fiduciary Status

When we provide investment advice to you regarding your retirement plan account or individual retirement account, we are fiduciaries within the meaning of Title I of the Employee Retirement Income Security Act and/or the Internal Revenue Code, as applicable, which are laws governing retirement accounts. The way we make money creates some conflicts with your interests, so we operate under a special rule that requires us to act in your best interest and not put our interest ahead of yours. Under this special rule's provisions, we must:

- Meet a professional standard of care when making investment recommendations (give prudent advice);
- Never put our financial interests ahead of yours when making recommendations (give loyal advice);
- Avoid misleading statements about conflicts of interest, fees, and investments;
- Follow policies and procedures designed to ensure that we give advice that is in your best interest;
- Charge no more than is reasonable for our services; and
- Give you basic information about conflicts of interest.

C. Client Tailored Services and Client Imposed Restrictions

SFS offers the same suite of services to all of its clients. However, specific client investment strategies and their implementation are dependent upon the client Investment Policy Statement which outlines each client's current situation (income, tax levels, and risk tolerance levels). Clients may impose restrictions in investing in certain securities or types of securities in accordance with their values or beliefs. However, if the restrictions prevent SFS or the third-party manager from properly servicing the client account, or if the restrictions would require SFS or the third-party manager to deviate from its standard suite of services, SFS reserves the right to end the relationship.

D. Wrap Fee Programs

A wrap fee program is an investment program where the investor pays one stated fee that includes management fees and transaction costs. SFS does not participate in wrap fee programs.

E. Assets Under Management

SFS has the following assets under management:

Discretionary Amounts:	Non-discretionary Amounts:	Date Calculated:

Item 5: Fees and Compensation

A. Fee Schedule

SFS will receive its standard fee on top of the fee paid to the third-party adviser. This relationship will be memorialized in each contract between SFS and the client, and in each contract between the client and each third-party adviser. The total fees charged to the client for this service will not exceed any limit imposed by any regulatory agency.

SFS may specifically direct clients to AssetMark Trust. The annual fee schedule is as follows:

Item 7: Types of Clients

SFS generally provides advisory services to the following types of clients:

- ❖ Individuals
- ❖ High-Net-Worth Individuals

There is no account minimum for any of SFS's services.

Item 8: Methods of Analysis, Investment Strategies, & Risk of Loss

A. Methods of Analysis and Investment Strategies

Methods of Analysis

SFS's methods of analysis include Cyclical analysis, Fundamental analysis and Modern portfolio theory.

Cyclical analysis involves the analysis of business cycles to find favorable conditions for buying and/or selling a security.

Fundamental analysis involves the analysis of financial statements, the general financial health of companies, and/or the analysis of management or competitive advantages.

Modern portfolio theory is a theory of investment that attempts to maximize portfolio expected return for a given amount of portfolio risk, or equivalently minimize risk for a given level of expected return, each by carefully choosing the proportions of various asset.

Investment Strategies

SFS recommends third-party managers that pursue a buy-and-hold strategy.

Investing in securities involves a risk of loss that you, as a client, should be prepared to bear.

B. Material Risks Involved

Methods of Analysis

Cyclical analysis assumes that the markets react in cyclical patterns which, once identified, can be leveraged to provide performance. The risks with this strategy are two-fold: 1) the markets do not always repeat cyclical patterns; and 2) if too many investors begin to implement this strategy, then it changes the very cycles these investors are trying to exploit.

Fundamental analysis concentrates on factors that determine a company's value and expected future earnings. This strategy would normally encourage equity purchases in stocks that are undervalued or priced below their perceived value. The risk assumed is that the market will fail to reach expectations of perceived value.

Modern portfolio theory assumes that investors are risk averse, meaning that given two portfolios that offer the same expected return, investors will prefer the less risky one. Thus, an investor will take on increased risk only if compensated by higher expected returns. Conversely, an investor who wants higher expected returns must accept more risk. The exact trade-off will be the same for all investors, but different investors will evaluate the trade-off differently based on individual risk aversion characteristics. The implication is that a rational investor will not invest in a portfolio if a second portfolio exists with a more favorable risk-expected return profile – i.e., if for that level of risk an alternative portfolio exists which has better expected returns.

Investment Strategies

A buy-and-hold strategy is designed to capture market rates of both return and risk. Due to its nature, this long-term investment strategy can expose clients to various types of risk that will typically surface at various intervals during the time the client owns the investments. These risks include but are not limited to inflation (purchasing power) risk, interest rate risk, economic risk, market risk, and political/regulatory risk.

Selection of Other Advisers: SFS's selection process cannot ensure that money managers will perform as desired and SFS will have no control over the day-to-day operations of any of its selected money managers. SFS would not necessarily be aware of certain activities at the underlying money manager level, including without limitation a money manager's engaging in unreported risks, investment "style drift" or even regulatory breaches or fraud.

Investing in securities involves a risk of loss that you, as a client, should be prepared to bear.

C. Risks of Specific Securities Utilized

SFS does not directly manage client's securities portfolios. The risks of the securities types utilized by the recommended third-party manager will be disclosed in that third-party manager's Form ADV Part 2A, which SFS will provide to each client for whom this service is recommended.

Past performance is not indicative of future results. Investing in securities involves a risk of loss that you, as a client, should be prepared to bear.

Item 9: Disciplinary Information

A. Criminal or Civil Actions

There are no criminal or civil actions to report.

B. Administrative Proceedings

There are no administrative proceedings to report.

C. Self-regulatory Organization (SRO) Proceedings

There are no self-regulatory organization proceedings to report.

Item 10: Other Financial Industry Activities and Affiliations

A. Registration as a Broker/Dealer or Broker/Dealer Representative

B. Registration as a Futures Commission Merchant, Commodity Pool Operator, or a Commodity Trading Advisor

Neither SFS nor its representatives are registered as or have pending applications to become either a Futures Commission Merchant, Commodity Pool Operator, or Commodity Trading Advisor or an associated person of the foregoing entities.

C. Registration Relationships Material to this Advisory Business and Possible Conflicts of Interests

Jeffery Alan Skinner is an independent licensed insurance agent. This activity creates a conflict of interest since there is an incentive to recommend insurance products based on commissions or other benefits received from the insurance company, rather than on the client's needs. Additionally, the offer and sale of insurance products by supervised persons of SFS are not made in their capacity as a fiduciary, and products are limited to only those offered by certain insurance providers. SFS addresses this conflict of interest by requiring its supervised persons to always act in the best interest of the client, including when acting as an insurance agent. SFS periodically reviews recommendations by its supervised persons to assess whether they are based on an objective evaluation of each client's risk profile and investment objectives rather than on the receipt of any commissions or other benefits. SFS will disclose in advance how it or its supervised persons are compensated and will disclose conflicts of interest involving any advice or service provided. At no time will there be tying between business practices and/or services (a condition where a client or prospective client would be required to accept one product or service conditioned upon the selection of a second, distinctive tied product or service). The client always has the right to decide whether to purchase any recommended insurance product. Insurance products recommended by SFS's supervised persons may also be available from other providers on more favorable terms, and clients have the right to purchase recommended insurance products through other unaffiliated insurance agencies.

D. Selection of Other Advisers or Managers and How This Adviser is Compensated for Those Selections

SFS directs clients to third-party investment advisers to manage all or a portion of the client's assets. Clients will pay SFS its standard fee in addition to the standard fee for the advisers to which it directs those clients. This relationship will be memorialized in each contract between SFS and the client, and in each contract between the client and each third-party adviser. The fees will not exceed any limit imposed by any regulatory agency. SFS will always act in the best interests of the client, including when determining which third-party investment adviser to recommend to clients. SFS will ensure that all recommended advisers are licensed or notice filed in the states in which SFS is recommending them to clients.
